

CROSS VISION MISSIONS

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Thank God for his Son--a gift too wonderful for words! (2Corinthians 9:15)

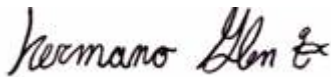

It's Christmas season, and our plans are always to give the greatest gifts. But in this time of year when we are all busy buying presents and battling roads that resemble a mix between a NASCAR race and a demolition derby, we often forget the most wonderful Christmas gift of all. We all fall into the monopoly of commercialism and buy anything we can imagine will light up our loved one's faces. So, here are a few encouraging words for this season:

2047 years ago God chose to give us the ultimate gift, His son. The most wonderful part about His gift is how he gives it though you and I. Through us it's available to everyone, and it's never out of stock. It's not a gift that needs pretty wrapping paper or bows, for it changes lives straight off the shelf. While it's true the gift cost God His all, it takes us only a few moments of time to share His gift with someone else.

Now, if you have received this gift then you know that there is no equal, no next year's topper, or even a chance to pay it back. The only way to say, "Thank you!" for such a gift is by sharing it, not just with the ones you love, but even a stranger you meet in line at the mall. I encourage you with this: Share the ultimate gift of God's saving grace with someone this holiday season. Take a moment and remember to give thanks for the gift God gave all, and remember you can give this gift as often, and to as many people as you wish.

In a little less than a week the CrossVision Family Mission trip will be heading to Piedras Negras, Mexico to share the ultimate Christmas gift once more. Over 120 people from all ages and walks of life will come together for one common goal: to share God's gift. Please pray for the team as we venture into the harvest fields and share the ultimate Christmas gift. Merry Christmas and never forget God's Christmas present to all.

Together "We will move forward on our knees" (Eph 6:18)
