

CROSSVISION MISSION
NOVEMBER
ENCOURAGEMENT FROM HERMANO GLEN

“Let Israel say, ‘His steadfast love endures forever.’” (Psa 118:2)

“Let the house of Aaron say, ‘His steadfast love endures forever.’” (Psa 118:3)

“Let those who fear the Lord say, ‘His steadfast love endures forever.’” (Psa 118:4)

“Oh give thanks to the Lord, for He is good; for His steadfast love endures forever!” (Psa 118:29)

Most of us don't use the word steadfast. So, let's take its definition in Webster's dictionary and re-read these verses as, “His constant love endures forever.” Do we take for granted that God's love is constant? I know I do. However, being involved with His ministry full time has taught me just how constant His love has to be. If I, with all the blessing of American life and every necessity met, find myself in constant need of reassurance that comes from God's love, how much more do those who have only a portion of their necessities met depend on God's constant love?

I hope that you have noticed the truth that each individual is uniquely in need of God's constant love in some way. Although, not everyone is willing to acknowledge this need. We are all in need of a savior and we are all in need of a sovereign God to be in control. The part of this truth that is only learned when we freely give ourselves to God is that, He uses people to convey His constant love.

When Jesus lives through us we get to be the conduit (the missionary) by which His constant love flows to others. When we allow Him to live in us, it is no longer about choosing to go on a mission trip for one week to a foreign country, although that is how many come to realize God can and does desire to live in and through them, it is all about Jesus' constant love flowing through us right where we are. In other words, Jesus wants His constant love to flow through us and therefore make us His missionaries where ever we are.

When He sends us on mission to a foreign place it is so He can make disciples through us where there are none. Many of you who are reading this note have experienced this first hand and I want to personally thank you for praying giving and going. God has used you and this ministry to strike the spark that I believe will ignite a fire in the hearts of some wonderful Christians, in mostly unevangelized areas, who simply have never seen themselves as missionaries. For many years it has been a practice of allowing God to use American missionaries and teams to demonstrate His love toward the lost around them. I am so thankful this practice is beginning to change.

It is a slow process and much more is left to be done so we must not stop fanning the fire or protecting it from Satan's dousing water. We must continually and daily allow Jesus to live in and through us in order for Him to choose and send us to strike the spark and kindle the fire. We must continuously become God's conduit of constant Love. We must rescue the lost and train others to do the same wherever God opens the opportunity. Please join me and CrossVision as we seek to have Jesus live in and through us.

Together “We will move forward on our knees” (Eph 6:18)
