

CROSSVISION MISSIONS SEPTEMBER, UPDATE

“For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, ...”

(Jeremiah 29:11)

Don't you love it when a plan comes together? I get so excited when I see my plans working. Sometimes I have to stop myself from telling everyone that it is just the way I envisioned this plan working out. Even so, I have learned that when God's plan overrides mine and I see Him working out the fine details, something even greater than my excitement invades my spirit. When I see God take the most unlikely person or church and use them for His eternal purpose my spirit is filled with the joy of the Lord.

Many times over in the ministry of CrossVision I have watched in amazement as God began to work among teams and churches to build His plan and do great kingdom work. Recently I received a testimony of how God has been working in the life of one of our associate churches, First Baptist Garfield, Arkansas. CrossVision was able to partner them with a church in the frontier of Mexico. Though the church had never done anything quite like this they followed God's plan and soon found themselves in the middle of an eternally life changing experience. Both churches have been energized with the joy of the Lord.

During the next few weeks we will be working in the Black Heart area of Mexico once again. Last year about this time God's joy filled my heart as we were able to be apart of his plan to plant and grow two new churches in this very dark, almost hopeless place. In addition I was filled with joy to see God working His plan in the life of the teams from Farmstead Baptist in Jasper, Alabama and Saint Andrews Baptist in Panama City, Florida. I have witnessed both of these churches become mighty tools in God's ultimate plan to make disciples in all nations.

On an individual basis I have been filled with the joy of the Lord as I have watched him take the vision of a Mexican Mission Ministry and raise His leader, Luis Martinez, up and fit Luis square in the middle of His plan. As we have watch God use Luis to encourage, equip and lead Mexican churches to follow God's plan our hearts have overflowed with His joy.

The joy that God's plan has for CrossVision as well as each of your lives is only one act of obedience away. So please be in prayer with me that we might be sensitive to God's plan and simply follow what He is doing. CrossVision will be in the states of Aguascalientes and Zacatecas with joint U.S. and Mexican teams during the month of October. We need your prayers, for God is doing a great work in this area. He has chosen you and I to be apart of this plan and we want to bring Him glory.

“We are moving forward on our knees” (Eph 6:18).
